Dear Bud,

Nov. 1, 1944
Somewhere in India, China, or Burma

Well, yesterday was Halloween. And I can imagine the parties that were thrown back in Good Ole' Stateside. I remember the last one I was on. It was in Seymour Johnson Field, N.C. And the next day I was packed and on my ^{way} over.
And it is also a sort of an anniversary too, it marks one year's overseas. And it seems that long too. But maybe I'll be getting home soon.
I certainly hope so.

There was a halloween party given last night by one of the Bomb squadrons and it was some affair. Free drinks, food, and a dance band. Where they dug it all up I'll never know. Had a few gals there — some nurses, red cross gals, and quite a few native chicks. A little on the dark side but they begin to lighten up after you've been here a while. Quite an orderly affair it was too — the first one I've been too that somebody didn't get the hell knocked out of them.

There is usually a brawl at every one. Party broke up about 2 AM or 0200 hours. Got a little hangover but otherwise am O.K. Boy, did I get horny looking at all the women. The first thing I'm gonna do upon arrival in Uncle Sugar (as we call it) is find me some one to shack.
I'm gonna rent an apartment in the Goodhue Hotel (on the Qt, of course) and start breeding.
So get all the gals ready mac, and tell them to get a good look at all the walls they can now — cause they're only gonna be looking at the culing for a long time.

Were you working last nite or did you celebrate?
And what about the joints in town. Any new ones?

am Inclosing a few photos that were taken at Kashmer ^{the} Two others were taken when I first got to India I look like a dwarf but the two guys are the tallest in the outfit about 6'3"

Keep trying on that Pen deal Mac, maybe you can find one. If I sent back the Eversharp it would take at least 6 months to get back to me.

Haven't heard from Abe or Harry in over a month.
Maybe I'll get one soon.

your Bud

P.S. The Insignia in ~~the~~ hand lft hand corner is theatre insignia a C.B.I. meaning China Burma + India.
