Hello Darling,

Got in from the store about thirty minutes ago - showered and then started writing you. And how I do miss you! And how I Love You!

The store has been pretty busy and it keeps me on my toes - even though my arches seem to resent it. Standing on your feet all day is no joke. But it's fun and I love it. It's fascinating work. And I never realized that women shoppers can be such hellions. I don't know whether it's the privilege of a woman (their eternal prerogative) to be so contrary and complaining or whether it's just plain cussedness.

But baby - there got some awful contrary women in N.O.
You can never quite satisfy them or pacify them. "This don't fit" - "that is too high" - "so and so has it 2 cents cheaper five blocks down the street" - "can't you knock the price down a little." What do they want for 2.98 - a whole outfit. All kidding ^(up) aside Darling - It's great work.

The weather has been pretty sloppy here the past week - but only the past three days has it really been cold. How has it been in Houston?

Awful glad to hear that the girls like the ring - But the most important thing is that it means we belong to each other.

Give my love to the folks
- And remember - I love you.

Sol

P.S. Did you get the class ring from Sara? And pullezze - send my barber pole striped robe.)

Good nite. Darling.
